

Old Mill Center for Children and Families

offers a continuum of services from prevention to intervention for children and their families to maximize their potential. We focus on family centered early education, therapeutic intervention, counseling, and parent support.

Since 1977, Old Mill Center has been serving youth of all ages – typically developing children, those with disabilities and developmental delays, as well as children with social, emotional or behavioral challenges. We recognize and celebrate each child's unique gifts and strengths. We offer a welcoming place for children and their families to grow and change in a nurturing and supportive environment

Child, Teen & Family Counseling

Child, Teen & Family Counseling is just one of our programs aimed at building a healthy and nurturing foundation for your child.

We offer these programs as well:

Healthy Families
Relief Nursery
Community Preschool
Intensive Treatment Services

Child, Teen & Family Counseling

Information on Child, Teen and Family Counseling

The Child, Teen & Family Counseling program helps children of all ages and their families find the opportunities for growth and improvement hidden in the challenges of life. Counseling has been shown to improve family relationships, reduce the impacts of trauma, navigate school difficulties, assist in accessing services in the community, and address many other concerns, bringing enrichment and comfort to families.

“I know I am not alone.”
-Client, Age 14
